

Suggested questions to ask your reproductive endocrinologist (REI) or fertility nurse

Your first visit to a fertility specialist or fertility clinic can be an overwhelming experience. On top of dealing with the emotional issues that may arise with infertility, you now find yourself confronting a new and sometimes scary world of treatment options. Bringing this list of questions to your first visit may help you to keep track of your thoughts and increase your comfort level.

Questions

- What specific tests would you recommend to diagnose my infertility? How much do they cost?
- How long will it take to diagnose our problem?
- Based on the results of those tests, what are my treatment options?
- What is the national success rate for those treatments in terms of live births?
- Will my insurance pay for the testing and/or treatments? Will your clinic help me determine what my insurance will cover?
- How will I communicate with you during this whole process?
- Does your clinic provide emotional counselling , or can you refer me to a counsellor who deals with fertility problems?
